The Scott Lawson Companies

Are you certain that your workplace is healthy and safe? Did you know your increased workers' comp costs may be linked to employee health and wellness?

Have you considered an integrated approach to obtain TOTAL WORKER HEALTH AND SAFETY?

"It's a matter of seeing the overall health of the individual and how it relates to every aspect of the company. If you're looking at preserving and enhancing the health and wellbeing of the workforce, you can't focus exclusively on individual health risks of the work environment. You need a comprehensive look at the health of the worker."

Dr. Greg Wagner, Senior Scientist for the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH), based at the Harvard School of Public Health

The Scott Lawson Companies are committed to providing every client with a better way to prevent injury on the job, lower workers' compensation costs, and improve the health and wellness of workers through a single partnership with our firm.

With the cost of running a business growing exponentially, employers are increasingly seeking ways to control the cost of worker health and safety. Our integrated solution provides quality worker health and safety services, high-level workers' compensation management, and customized wellness programs that achieve every necessary component in creating and maintaining the total health and safety of your workforce. With these tools and complete management commitment, every company can build wellness, improve health, and maintain a robust bottom line.

Our approach has earned us the opportunity to offer you a one-source solution to wellness – a better way to a healthy and safe workforce – through the following programs:

- The Scott Lawson Group, Ltd: Worker Health and Safety, and Laboratory Services
- Comp-SIGMA Ltd: Workers' Compensation Management
